DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS SURE

JUDGE C. P. HENRY
MAKES STATEMENT

It has been whispered around that in this issue of the paper my opposition is planning to have published certain statements attacking me as to my public record and private conduct. They claim they have held it back until this issue so that I will not have time to answer it, as this is the last issue of the paper until after the election. Of course, I have no intention as to what it will be, but am sure that those who are back of it will not stop at the truth in trying to bolster up a lost cause. I know this because of many things which they published in the last issue of this paper. For instance, in glaring headlines across the top of the paper it is stated: "Indebtedness of Morgan County Approximately $100,000.00." This is not true and they knew, or should have known, it was not true. Their statement is based upon an audit and the audit shows it is not true. They are willing to publish to the world that this county is $100,000 more in debt than it is for the purpose of trying to mislead the voters in the present campaign. If they had wanted to tell the truth they would have told you that practically all of this indebtedness was incurred prior to my administration. The two items making up the largest part of this indebtedness is a $78,000 judgment for notes issued prior to my administration, and $155,000 of road bonds voted by the people.

I have started out of the paper and misdirection and have not attempted in any manner to cast my reflection upon my opponent and have conducted the campaign, so far as I am concerned, upon a high plane. I will not have a chance to refute the charges in this present issue because I do not know what they will be and they have kept them hidden from me thinking I would not have a chance to answer.

I will leave my cause to the intelligence of the voters. The average citizen knows that my records have been open for inspection for the last eight years, no person has been denied the right to examine them, and if there was anything really wrong connected with my work or conduct in the office of County Judge, it would have long since been published to the world.

I want to say that never in any campaign have I had more loyal friends, and I assure you that if I live every indication points to the fact that I will serve as your County Judge for the next four years.

Let me appeal to you that, rich or poor, you go and take your friends to the polls and cast your votes for me and I am confident that we will win by a large majority.

C. P. HENRY

CARTER COUNTY MAJORITY WILL NOT BE LARGE

Grayson, Ky., Oct. 30, 1933
Mr. Walter E. Mobley,
Sandy Hook, Kentucky.
Dear Mr. Mobley:

We understand that certain advocates of your opponent are claiming that you will lose Carter county by a large majority in the coming election. It is our opinion that extravagant claims are not justified.

In 1931, Governor Laffoon lost the county by a majority of 789 votes; in 1932, President Roosevelt carried the county by a majority of 185 votes, and it is conceded by some of the leading Republicans that the county is normally Republican by a majority not exceeding 500 votes.

While it is the consensus of opinion that your opponent will carry Carter county by approximately 800 majority, there are many people here who do not believe it will be that much. We want to be liberal in making an estimate and fix your loss of the county somewhere between 500 and 1000 votes. It is our best judgment that your opponent will not carry the county in excess of 1000 votes.

With few exceptions, the Democrats are misled and many Republicans are aligned with them in your behalf.

(Signed) Andrew P. Kiser, county judge and chairman Democratic executive committee of Carter county; Freeman S. Webb, secy., Democratic executive committee; D. W. Stone, chairman Democratic campaign com.; J. A. Hagby, sec. Democratic campaign committee; W. J. Fields; J. W. Stovall; W. H. Strother, banker; R. T. Kennard, attorney.

MOBLEY MAKES STATEMENT

The campaign in the 37th Judicial District is fast drawing to a close. When I came definitely to the conclusion that I would enter the contest, I also resolved to do all in my power, that was honorable, to win, but would enter into no campaign of vituperation or mudslinging. This promise I have so far kept and will continue to do so until the end.

I have no complaint to make as to the personal acts of my opponent. Some of his followers, however, have attempted to attack both my political record and my personal character. They have not hesitated to falsify themselves as to both. I have not attempted to answer this for the reason that my opponent did not make the charges. I desire, however, to call the attention of the voters to what my neighbors and friends of Sandy Hook have to say of my public and private life, which you will find published in this paper. With the exception of about two years which I spent in the World War and while I was in college, my life has been spent in Elliott county; and I assure you that those who sign these statements are among the best citizens in Kentucky.

I believe firmly that I will win if my many friends continue to the end with the same steadfast loyalty which has characterized their efforts so far, and I am confident they will do so.

Thanking you all for your splendid work so far and promising the citizens of this district that, if elected, I will render the very best service in my power, I leave it in your hands.

WALTER E. MOBLEY

WHAT THE VOTERS OF ELLIOTT COUNTY THINK OF MOBLEY

Mobley as a County Official

We, the undersigned, constituting a majority of the Fiscal Court of Elliott county, take pleasure in commending Walter E. Mobley as a County Official. We have always found him patient and anxious to be of service. He is conservative, yet fair, and is always found trying to conserve the interest of the taxpayers without lessening the efficiency of government. He is energetic, industrious, and worthy, and at the close of our administration we extend our thanks and appreciation for the honest, efficient, and able service he has rendered us and our county as County Attorney.

(Signed) J. A. Kogley, J. P. E. C., Chas. Gilman, and Harold Adkins.

Mobley as a School Man

As members of the County Board of Education of Elliott county, we cheerfully recommend Walter E. Mobley as an educator. We have found him ever ready to cooperate with us in any movement to improve our schools or their efficiency. He never fails to encourage advancement and progress in the school system and we take this method of extending our appreciation for the honest and faithful service he has at all times rendered us.

(Signed) E. L. Fannin, Chairman, Andy Porter, Chas. H. Shelton, and Curtis Green.

Mobley as a Lawyer

It has been my pleasure to have practiced law with Walter E. Mobley for several years. While our interests have not always been mutual and we have often been on opposite sides, I have learned to love and respect Mr. Mobley. In his desire to win cases I have never found him resorting to "sharp practices," unfair or questionable methods. He is honest and sober and he conducts himself with precision and good judgment. He is an able attorney and in my opinion is well fitted for the office of Circuit Judge, and it is my pleasure to recommend him to the voters of the 37th Judicial District of Kentucky.

(Signed) M. M. Redwine.

What the Church Thinks of Mobley

It has been our pleasure to know Walter E. Mobley for a number of years. He is a highly respected citizen of unusual qualities. When one of our citizens is in distress, he is among the first upon the scene and his services to humanity are always cheerful given. He is a liberal contributor to the church and ever advocates advancement in community interest. His honesty, integrity, and morality are above reproach, and we believe he would do credit to our district as a Circuit Judge.

(Signed) Mrs. V. H. Redwine, Stewart in Methodist church; Mrs. Edgar Rice; J. W. Flanery; Mrs. Mollie H. Greene, Chm. Democratic Ex. Com.; Kattie A. Lee, Public Health Nurse; Mrs. Eriella Redwine.

What the Ministry Thinks of Mobley

We have known Walter E. Mobley for a number of years and our association with him has at all times been pleasant. He is always ready to be of service to people in need and his influence in the community is always on the moral side. He is honest and sober and of high moral character. His integrity has never been questioned by those who know him. That he has made a good County Attorney cannot be denied and we sincerely believe that he is well fitted for any position of honor or trust.

RELIEF WORK O. K.

To the citizens of Morgan county:

My attention has been called to some articles in the Licking Valley Courier under date of October 28th, 1933, with reference to certain members of the relief committee and as to the manner in which they have been conducting the distribution of relief.

I desire to make the following statement: The relief committee of Morgan County is composed of C. P. Henry, Dr. A. P. Gullett, C. K. Stacy, G. W. Leslie and Henry Cole. Neither of these members of this committee have at any time since the beginning of the relief work in Morgan County received any pay for their services. In fact, it was the understanding when they accepted this appointment that they would not receive anything but would give their services and that they have done, many times at great neglect of their own personal affairs as it has consumed many days service.

I have investigated the facts with reference to those who made affidavits appearing in the Licking Valley Courier, to wit: Harry Todd, Jess Adkins, Grace Todd and Lin B. Coffee. I know nothing about what statements, if any, were made as charged by Dr. Wheeler to either of these parties, as I was not present, but I have investigated the records and find that the statement is not true, made to the effect that either of these parties who made these affidavits have been cut off from relief, and I think it well to show to the public just what these gentlemen have received, which is as follows:

JESSE ADKINS

1932: Nov. 22, $3; Dec. 1, $3.
1933: Jan. 28, $3; Feb. 24, $3; March 20, $3; April 24, $3; May 10, $3; June 3, $3; July 22, $3; Aug. 4, $3.

HARRY TODD

1932: November 26, $3.
1933: Jan. 28, $3; Feb. 24, $3; March 20, $3; April 24, $3; May 29, $3; June 22, $3; July 3, $3; Aug. 4, $3.

LIN B. COFFEE

1932: July 28, $3; August 11, $3; October 21, $3.

In investigating this matter I find that Lin B. Coffee has not received as much as the others but he is a single man and while in need he was not nearly so much in need as those with large families and nothing to provide for them.

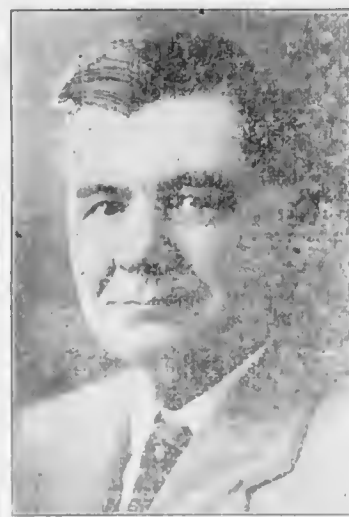

On August 12th, 1933, by orders of State Headquarters, no relief was provided until in October, this month, and the committee was directed to make a new supervision and to check up on all applicants which consumed some two or three weeks time and the organization is just getting in condition to properly function and for this reason work orders have not yet been issued for this month.

As Field Supervisor of relief for ten counties in eastern Kentucky, including Morgan county, I want to say that in no county in my district have

FARMERS' COLUMN

About the Farm

Tests made at the Kentucky agricultural experiment station indicate that self-feeding or hopper-feeding of grain to poultry is better than hand-feeding or litter-feeding. Self feeding in a hopper is more sanitary,
saves labor and grain, and permits
the birds to balance their own ration.

Dairying as a source of farm income in Kentucky ranks second only to the tobacco industry. In a considerable portion of the state, dairy cows provide a fair cash income where homegrown grains together with abundant pastures and legume hay crops are marketed thru good cows.

Farmers who had been keeping books or accounts found them of value in furnishing records in the wheat reduction campaign. Such accounts also will be worth much in the adjustment program for tobacco and other crops. An accurate system of bookkeeping or records will be more necessary than ever in the future.

Wait until the ground is frozen,
probably in December, before applying mulch to flowers and shrubbery.
Mulch tends to prevent injury from alternate freezing and thawing. Use straw, leaves, straw manure, or grass clippings, but do not apply deep enough to smother plants or cause rotting.

Cleaning up gardens, fields, and fence rows will prevent insects from living thru the winter to damage crops next year. Destroying remnants of crops in the fall is the best way to combat certain insects. Squash, melon, and cucumber vines should be burned
or composted, in order to destroy squash bugs, squash vine borers, and pickle worms.

Hog Plan Helps Producers

Nearly 18,000,000 pounds of cured
pork, part of the approximately 100-000,000 pounds secured from hogs processed under the government's emergency relief hog plan, have already been requested by and shipped to relief agencies in more than 40 states, according to the United States department of agriculture.

All the pork that could be obtained in processing was saved for distribution to the 15,000,000 people on relief lists, in connection with the new government program of direct relief administration. This activity contributes to the feeding of the unemployed and also tends to stabilize farm markets
by removing some of the existing surplus.

Producers have received about $32-000,000 in premium prices and production adjustment payments for the approximately 6,100,000 pigs and 220,000
sows to farrow which were slaughtered
during the emergency program.

Representatives of hog producers in 10 cabinet states formulated the short-time or temporary hog plan. Its object was to remove from the fall and winter markets 600,000,000 to 700,000,000 pounds of live pork, and about 1,500,000,000 pounds from the 1933-34 marketing season.

Sharp decrease in pork exports, together with some production increase,
had resulted in an unfavorable market situation. The emergency program was the first step toward bringing about a better balance between the production and consumption of corn and hogs.

Poultry Outlook Is Good

Poultry farmers need not be discouraged, according to speakers at the recent annual field day at the experiment station at Lexington. Demand for eggs is on the increase while there has been little or no increase in production.

Poultry prices averaged better than prices of other livestock products during the last part of the depression, and still average about as well as prices of other farm products.

Poultry is now the second most valuable livestock in the United States, ranking next to dairying. The lowly hen has displaced the mighty hog at the side of the cow.

The visitors inspected the flocks and poultry plant at the experiment station farm in the morning and attended a short speaking program in the afternoon. Talks were made by Dr. M. A.
Judd of the U. S. department of agriculture and by Dean Thomas P. Cooper, Dr. G. Davis Buckner, Dr. J.
Holmes Martin, and Prof. D. G. Card
of the experiment station.

Dr. Buckner, who was an official delegate of the United States to the World's Poultry Congress in Rome, reported on the exhibits and proceedings.

Poultry raisers met at the farm of W. B. Pyles in Mason county the day following the Lexington meeting.
There they saw one of the best practical farm plants and flocks in the state, including birds that won high places in national egg laying contests.
Among them were blue hens that laid more than 300 eggs each in a year.

DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS SURE (Continued from first page)

I received better cooperation or worked with men who were more willing to try to do what seemed to be best under the circumstances. Under the limited funds that are provided for relief it is impossible to give to all persons who need relief and besides there are many who think they need relief when they can get by without it.

I have closely investigated the manner in which the committee of Morgan county have carried on the affairs of relief and I am perfectly satisfied that they are rendering good service and trying to give to those who need help.
I want to ask all the citizens of Morgan county to cooperate with them and assist them in making this relief work
a needed success and, instead of criticizing, try to assist them because they are giving up many days and nights of their own time to this work without any compensation whatever, except the consolation that people in need are being helped.

J. MILLER LACKEY,
Field Supervisor.

EX-SERVICE MEN ENDORSE WALTER E. MOBLEY

October 29, 1933.
Mr. Walter E. Mobley,
Sandy Hook, Kentucky.

Dear sir:
We, the undersigned ex-service men
of Morgan county, appreciate the fact that you, a World War veteran, have been selected as a candidate for the office of Circuit Judge of this district.

From your reputation we believe that you will, if elected, enforce the law and bring honor to the ex-service men and credit to the district.

If we can be of service to you in this campaign call on us and we will gladly and loyally respond.

Yours very truly,

BLAME JUDGE HENRY

If your shoes hurt your feet
Blame Judge Henry.
If your features are not neat
Blame Judge Henry.
If your hat is not on straight,
If you tear your clothes on the gate,
If you are an hour too late,
Blame Judge Henry!
If Christmas don't come but once a year
Blame Judge Henry.
If you can't get whiskey and beer
Blame Judge Henry.
If your neighbor has the flu,
And you're afraid you'll get it too,
The only thing for you to do
Is blame Judge Henry!
If you can't get work to do
Blame Judge Henry.
If your clothes are ragged too
Blame Judge Henry.
If your children quarrel and fight,
And the fleas and bed bugs bite
I'll have them sleep at night,
Blame Judge Henry!
If your sweetheart proves untrue
Blame Judge Henry.
If your taxes are past due
Blame Judge Henry.
And if on November the eighth

W. A. Cuskey the candidate
Is five hundred votes too late
Blame Judge Henry!
R. B. BARKER

To the voters of Morgan county:
When we were selected to serve as Chairman and Secretary of the Democratic campaign in Morgan county, it was our intention to help carry on the contest upon a high plane. The candidates on the Democratic ticket have shown no indication of wanting to do otherwise and we believed that the opposition would do the same. We were very much surprised when, in last week's issue of the Courier, there were published some rather vicious attacks upon the Relief Committee of Morgan county, composed of Henry Coe, Dr. A. P. Gullett, G. W. Leslie, C. P. Henry, and C. K. Stacy. It is very clear why this was done. Anyone could see that the page was monopolized by Republican advertisement. If you will notice the sheet it will show
"advertisement." They undertake to show that this Committee, composed of as honorable men as we have in our county, are using their position for campaign purposes, when the evidence shows that the Republican opposition is doing the very thing which they accuse us of doing; namely, they are trying to use it for campaign purposes. This kind of stuff doesn't get them anywhere and no reasonable voter will be caught by it. They could have much better spent their time in trying to aid the Committee and cooperate with the Committee in getting relief to those who need it instead of trying to destroy an organization that has done so much for Morgan county people. Anyone knows that such attacks make it harder to obtain relief for these in this county who are too poor to help themselves.

When we first took charge of this campaign we were confronted by men on all sides saying that it was doubtful whether the Democrats would succeed, but we want to assure you that we have watched the campaign day by day and week by week as it got brighter and brighter, and when the election comes you will see the Democratic candidates, all of them,
have been elected by a good majority.
We want to thank the many friends and co-workers who have so ably assisted us in helping to make this fight a success.

Democratic Campaign Committee

Volts, Amperes, Watts, Ohms
Pressure supplied by the electric generators required to send an electric current through a conductor is measured in volts. The rate of flow is measured in amperes and the amount of energy produced is measured in watts. Resistance of an electrical conductor is measured in ohms.

"Klondike"

"Klondike" is a corruption of the name of a stream, a tributary of the Yukon, in extreme northwest Canada in the Yukon territory. The word is in one of the Athapaskan dialects prevailing in that region. In the literature of the day, "Klondike" and even "to Klondike" occur.

Six Different Vitamins

The term "vitamin" is considerable of a mystery to the average individual. As a matter of fact six different vitamins have been identified, namely vitamins A, B1 (or F), B2 (or G), C, D and E. The apparent conflict in these designations has arisen as a result of simultaneous discoveries and christenings in this and in foreign countries. Vitamin E is the one most recently isolated and its most prolific source is the wheat germ.

Boat Almost Flies

It is a dull season that does not bring out something new in the matter of boat construction. This year it is a craft with a hull in eight overlapping sections. These are graduated in size and the overlap is vertical. When the boat is at rest on the water all of these sections are in contact with the water, but as the boat moves the body is raised and as the speed increases they are all out of the water except the two larger sections. The hull in this case offers a very slight resistance and the claim is made that the boat is really moving upon a cushion of air.

Greek Stone to N. Y. Church

The Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York recently received a gift from Archbishop Chrysostomos, head of the Greek church in Athens—a piece of stone cut from the Acropolis, the noted rock on which St. Paul stood to preach to the Athenians. To Christians this relic has a peculiar significance for, if St. Paul like St. Peter had not come to preach Christianity to the Europeans, after their sermons had fallen on barren ground in Asia, the Christian civilization in Europe might never have been born.

Bears Shake Tree to Get Man

While inspecting trees in the Saitama Prefecture of Japan recently three men were surprised by a mother bear and two cubs. Two of the men fled and the third climbed a tree. The bears stayed at the bottom of the tree and tried to shake it so the man would fall. Seven hours later a rescue party of fifty firemen and two hunters appeared and shot the mother bear, which weighed over 200 pounds. The cubs were captured.

Women Don't Make Good Clowns

Women can never make good clowns; they're too serious. This is the opinion of Greek, celebrated French clown maker who has spent a lifetime of clowning in European circus rings and who still attracts huge crowds in Paris.

Why, of Course

"Marjorie is very clever."
"She only makes people think she is."
"What's that clever?"
"She knows that clever?"
"What's that?"
"She hates kings."

Alfalfa, Clover Bring Late Crops

May Be Used Where Chinch Bugs Have Riddled the Corn and Barley.

By J. C. Backelman, Crop Extension Specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.—WSP Service.

Extensive areas in central and north-central Illinois where chinch bugs have ruined the corn or barley crops can best be planted to alfalfa or red clover. Planting these legumes not only would put a crop on land that otherwise would be idle and costly, but also would be in line with the national agricultural adjustment program, which is designed to reduce the acreage of grain crops. Illinois farmers already have adjusted their cropping seasons to the point where they are growing a million acres more of legumes than they were in 1910-1914, but the acreage can be easily extended by seeding alfalfa and red clover on land where the corn or barley has been riddled by the chinch bugs, provided the soil is adapted.

It is important that soil conditions in the field be known before either alfalfa or red clover is seeded. The land must be good and must have a sufficient amount of phosphorus. Simple tests are available for determining this. The seed bed already has been prepared and by occasional additional cultivation can be kept in excellent condition for seeding. Red clover and alfalfa can be seeded in mid-summer. This will help to solve the problem of crop acreages and will make it materially easier for farmers to put a crop adjustment program into effect for 1934.

Choosing something to replace corn that has been ruined by chinch bugs is doubly difficult because the crop must be one that is immune to the bugs and that can, at the same time, be planted at late date. Sudan grass and millets, which could be seeded at this season of the year, are out of the question because they are highly favored foods of chinch bugs.

About the only cash crop available at this date is buckwheat. This will yield from ten to as many as twenty-five bushels to the acre, depending upon soil fertility and seasonal conditions. The best varieties are Japanese and Silver Hull.

Finds Phosphates of U. S. Worth Billions

The $200,000,000 worth of phosphate rock which the phosphate deposits of the United States have yielded to date is a small item compared to the total phosphate resources of this country. Workers of the bureau of chemistry and soils have completed a survey of America's phosphate resources which has been published by the United States Department of Agriculture. They estimate American phosphate resources at 6,200,000,000 long tons, worth approximately $12,000,000,000.

Because the phosphate deposits of the United States form its most valuable natural fertilizer resource, and because phosphate fertilizers are used more widely and in greater quantities by American farmers than fertilizers containing other plant food elements, these findings are of interest to farmers and fertilizer manufacturers.

This survey discloses the occurrence, production, and reserves of phosphate rock in the United States and presents detailed information on their chemical composition which indicates the comparative value of all the domestic varieties of phosphate rock that are of commercial importance at the present time.

Feed for Work Horses

Efficient work horses can be developed by feeding less grain than many farmers are inclined to use. At the Missouri experiment station it was found that one lot of colts which had a total of 4,238 pounds of grain and 5,723 pounds of hay each, up to the time they were three years old, made just as good work horses as those which had 7,238 pounds of grain and 4,234 pounds of hay. They did not grow quite as fast, and were slower in developing, but there was less difficulty in keeping the colts sound in the feet and legs and as work horses they were just as satisfactory as the ones that had more grain.—Successful Farming.

Millet for Hay

Like sudan, millet makes a hay relatively low in protein content and has about the same adaptation. For best quality hay it should be cut early before the heads get too plentiful and before they mature. The Japanese varieties yield heaviest, but the foxtail types like the German and Hungarian make a finer stemmed and more leafy hay. From 25 to 30 pounds of seed are required. Seed should be planted from one-half to three-quarters of an inch deep.—Hoar's Dairyman.

Demand for TB Testing

The demand for the tuberculin test by owners of cattle herds in 28 states is greater than the vet. inspectors, employed by the state and federal governments, have been able to meet. During 1933, there were nearly 2,000,000 cattle on the waiting list in those states. Five states—Tenn., Minnesota, Missouri, New York, and Vermont—each had more than 100,000 cattle on their waiting lists. The other 18 states had substantial though smaller numbers of cattle awaiting tests.

Aunt Sarah, wife of Rev. J. W. Dunn, of Kentucky, was born April 3, 1859, died Oct. 18, 1933, aged 61 years, 6 months, 15 days. She was converted to the Christian religion and became a member of the Church of Christ at the age of 18, and lived a consistent Christian until death. She was the mother of 12 children, all of them living: Mrs. Robert Murphy of Arcola, Ind.; L. W. Dunn, the Queen, Ark.; Mrs. Dillard Nickell, F. W. Dunn, Floyd C. Dunn, Middletown, Ohio; Mrs. C. H. Mayhew, near Lawrence, Ind.; Mrs. Dillard Nickell, Madison, Ky.; Mrs. Curly Cox, Mansfield, Ill.; Mrs. Oscar Leach, Woods-bend; Sam O. and Ray Dunn, at home; and T. A. Dunn of Columbia City, Ind. Funeral services were held at the home by Rev. James Lawson of Dan and Rev. James Wilson of New Cummer. The body was laid to rest in the Peyton cemetery. Aunt Sarah lived a true and devoted wife, a kind and sympathetic mother, and a faithful Christian. I have visited her home a few times during her sickness and always found her bearing up under her afflictions and meeting everybody with a pleasant smile, until at last God called her to come up higher and "I will give you rest."

WORLD FAIR TRIP

Thirty-five merchants, business men, and women of Morgan, Wolfe, and Menifee counties joined in with similar delegations from all points of the Sandy river and Ashland on a trip to the World Fair at Chicago, Ill. The trip was prepared and promoted by the Sandy Valley Grocery Co. of Paintsville, with free train fare to all.

Members of the party from this county are as follows: W. L. Murray, Roy Murray, Paul Friend, Mrs. Gay Tredway, Mrs. O. B. Arnett, Mrs. J. L. Blair, Mrs. J. C. Arnett, Miss Edna Mae Spencer, Woodrow Barber, Donnell McClure, Corrie Elliott, James H. Harper, Everett Nickell, Lecher Green, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Elam, Robert Caskey, T. H. Caskey, and Woodrow Stamper.

This party reports a great time and no doubt the whole county will be hearing from members of this party relative to the many wonders of progress displayed at the World Fair.

They had a great impression on the members of the traffic department of the U. S. railroad, also they were given a big reception by the manager of the Hot 1 Kakebaker as being the first crowd that they had entertained among the 1,000,000 that had registered there during the Fair.

This party is looking forward to the fair which will be planned in the near future by Sandy Valley Grocery Co. for next year.

Fate in the Way

By DUFORD JENNE

©, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service

THE lights of Marion's car shooting up the road picked up the glint of metal at the distant curve, and the next moment she saw that she was approaching what was evidently a wrecked car. Coming nearer, she pulled her heavy roadster to a stop. Then her headlights brought into sharp relief the figure of a man crumpled just beyond the twisted frame.

She slipped from her car and to his side. He was unconscious, and the bloodstains on his face proved that he had reason to be. Climbing down to the brook that followed the road, she brought cold water and bathed his face. The even, rather handsome face, gave no sign of life and she began to be frightened; then he moaned slightly, turned, and opened his eyes.

"Oh, I remember—the world turned over twice," he muttered.

"This is a bad curve, and the road is icy this time of year," she said. "How do you feel now?" she asked.

"I—" She felt him relax again into unconsciousness.

"There's just one thing to do," she thought to herself; "that is to take him back home—and that's the last place where I want to go!"

Between them and the little wayside railroad station to which she had been speeding, there were twenty miles of country, and at the station there would be no possibility of medical aid, while her father was a physician spending the precious end of his vacation at his country home.

She revived the unconscious man, and, using her sturdy self as a crutch, she managed to get him to her car and into it.

"I am sorry—to make you so much trouble," he said faintly.

"Never you mind," she said gently, wondering just what he would think if he knew that he had interrupted an elopement, that even now her lover was waiting at the wayside station for her, that the western express would soon be due.

"Why, he's slipped away again," she thought to herself, glancing at him, and, slipping an arm around him and under his head she sent the car humming homeward.

The house was as dark as when she had left. She blew her horn, smiling a bit as she realized the dramatic quality of the moment. The door opened at the house as the light was turned on. Presently her father came out.

"What? You? Why—what does this mean? And what an injured man? What does this mean, Marion?" he ejaculated.

"Explanations later, Dad," she said. "Right, Mischief!" He started to lift the hurt man from the car.

"Grent Scott! It's Norman Bradley—my old friend Bradley's son. He had written that he might be out to see us!"

She aided her father, whose swift skill soon made their patient comfortable; and as she glanced at him, she made up her mind that she might have done worse than rescue him.

The next day brought her two unhappy times. In the morning she was called to the telephone, and over the phone came her lover's voice, blither with unconsciousness.

"Pat, Denis, I couldn't do otherwise," she urged.

His swift, prolonged reply left her cheeks flushed, and her will on fire. As she hung up the receiver, her father came near.

"Marion, is that scamp calling you?" he demanded. "And it is perfectly plain that you were planning to join him last night. Now—"

"Dad, let's not argue it! I was. I have tried—tried to forget him, but I love him," she added, every nail in her happy.

He looked at her in silence, then said: "Remember I forbid you to marry him. You are all that is left that is left to me." He said simply as she did.

It was a long time later that Norman Bradley came home through the autumn fall. He said suddenly, "Marion, you know your father forbid me to marry you. I was told that you were planning to join him last night. Now—"
